Simplicity of Truth.

I witnessed a short time ago, in one of our high courts, a beautiful illustration of the simplicity and power of truth:

A little girl nine years of age was offered as a witness against a prisoner, who was on trial for felony committed in her father's house.

"Now, Emily," said the counsel for the prisoner, upon her being offered as a witness, "I desire to understand if you know the nature of an oath?"

"I don't know what you mean," was the simple answer.

"There, your honor," said the counsel, addressing the court, "is anything farther necessary to demonstrate the validity of my objections? This witness should be rejected. She does not comprehend the nature of an oath."

"Let us see," said the Judge. "Come here, my daughter."

Assured by the kind tone and manner of the Judge, the child stepped towards him and looked confidently up in his face with a calm, clear eye, and in a manner so artless and frank it went straight to the heart.

"Did you ever take an oath?" inquired the Judge.

The little girl stepped back with a look of horror, and the red blood mantled in a blush all over her face and neck, as she answered, "No sir." She thought he intended to inquire if she had ever blasphemed.

"I do not mean that," said the Judge, who saw her mistake. "I mean were you ever a witness before?"

He handed her the bible open.

"Do you know that book, my daughter?"

She looked at it and answered, "Yes, sir, it is the Bible."

"Do you ever read it?" he asked.

"Yes, sir—every evening."

"Can you tell me what the Bible is?"

"It is the Word of the Great God," she answered

"Well, place your hand upon this Bible and listen to what I say," and he repeated slowly and solemnly the oath usually administered to witnessess.

"Now," said the Judge, "you have been sworn as a witness—will you tell me what will befall you if you do not tell the truth?"

"I shall be shut up in the State prison," answered the child.

"Anything else?" asked the Judge.

"I shall never go to Heaven."

"How do you know?" asked the Judge again.

The child took the Bible, and turning rapidly to the chapter containing the commandments, pointed to the injunction, "Thou shalt not bear false witness against thy neighbor." "I learned that," she said, "before I could read."

"Has any one talked to you about being a witness in court here against this man?" inquired the Judge.

"Yes, sir," she replied; "my mother heard they wanted me to be a witness, and last night she called me into her room and asked me to tell her the ten commandments, and then we kneeled down together, and she prayed that I might understand how wicked it was to bear false witness against my neighbor, and that God would he'p me, a little child, to tell the truth as it was before Him. And when I came here with father, she kissed me and told me to remember the ninth commandment, and that God would hear every word I said."

"Do you believe this?" asked the Judge, with a tear glistening in his eye and his lips quivering with emotion.

"Yes, sir," said the child, with a voice and manner that showed her conviction of the truth was perfect.

"God bless you, my child," said the Judge, "you have a good mother. This witness is competent," he continued: "Were I on trial for my life, and innocent of the charges against me, I would pray God for such a witness as this. Let her be examined."

She told her story with the simplicity of a child as she was, but there was a directness about it which carried conviction of its truth to every heart. She was rigidly cross-examined. The counsel plied her with infinite and ingenious questioning, but she varied from her first statement in nothing. The truth as spoken by that child was sublime. Falsehood and perjury had preceded her testimony. The prisoner had entrenched himself in lies, until he deemed himself impregnable. Witnesses had falsified facts in his favor, and villainy had manufactured a sham defence, but before her testimony falsehood was scattered like chaff. The little child, for whom a mother had prayed for strength to be given her to speak the truth as it was before God, broke the cunning devices of matured villainy in pieces like a potter's vessel. The strength that the mother had prayed for was given her, the sublime and terrible simplicity (terrible, I mean, to the prisoner and his perjured associates) with which she spoke was like a revelation from God himself.

THE OLD AGE OF FLOWERS.—Old age has a singular aspect in lilacs, rose bushes and other ornamental shrubs. It seems as if such things, as they grow only for beauty, ought to flourish in immortal youth, or at least to die before their decrepitude. They are trees of Paradise, and therefore not naturally subject to decay; but have lost their birthright by being transplanted hither. There is a kind of ludicrous unfitness in the idea of a venerable rose bush; and there is something analogous to this in human life. Persons who can only be graceful and ornamental—who can give the world nothing but flowers—should die young, and never be seen with grey hairs and wrinkles, any more than the flower-shrubs with mossy bark and scanty foliage, like the lilac under my window. Not that beauty is not worthy of immortality.

Nothing else, indeed, is worthy of it; and thence, perhaps, the sense of impropriety when we see it triumph over time. Apple trees, on the other hand, grow old without reproach. Let them live as long as they may, and contort themselves in whatever fashion they please, they are still respectable, even if they afford us only an apple or two in a season, or none at all. Human flower-shrubs, if they will grow old on earth, should, with their lovely blossoms, bear some kind of fruit that will satisfy earthly appetites; else men will not be satisfied that the moss should gather on them.—Hawthorne.

General Sherman says the men who skulked on the field are very brave in their denunciations of the South since they came home.

LAND FOR SALE.

THE undersigned, as Executor of Samuel W. Branch, deceased, will offer at public vendue, to the highest bidder, on the First Monday in November next, the tract of Land belonging to the estate of the said Samuel W. Branch, on which the said Samuel W. Branch resided at the time of his death.

The said tract of Land is situated in Halifax county, North Carolina, about two miles east of Enfield which is the nearest Depot It contains twelve hundred acres, about two thirds of which are cleared and in cultivation. One hundred acres of the cultivated lands are low grounds of the finest quality. The upland has inexhaustable supplies of marl, of easy access, and is as well adapted to the growth of cotton as any upland plantation in the State. There is a good Dwelling House, Gin-house, Still-house and out-houses on the Land, an Apple Orchard, in good bearing, sufficient to make ten barrels Brandy, and altogether the plantation is one of the most desirable in the State.

At least three thousand dollars will be required in cash. A credit of one, two and three years will be allowed on the remainder of the purchase money, which must be unexceptionably secured by personal security, or the purchaser may pay all cash at his option. The title, which is indisputable, will be retained until the purchase money is paid. Persons who may desire to purchase can have an opportunity of riding over the plantation by calling at the dwelling. Possession will be given on the 1st of January next.

BENJ. F. GARY,

EXECUTOR'S SALE OF

DESIRABLE DWELLING, NICE TOWN LOTS, AND A TRACT OF LAND

Near Warrenton, N. C.

As executor of Dr. Hugh J. Davis, to effect a division among his legatees, I shall sell to the highest bidder, on the 15th day of November, 1866, at his late residence, in the town of Warrenton, N. C., the DWELLING HOUSE and LOT. Also a Lot in front of Dwelling, and a Lot adjoining the Court-House square; and a tract of Land about two miles distant from Warrenton.

The Dwelling is in cottage style, containing ten rooms, and has two basements. Near the centre of the town, surrounded by magnificent oaks, it is in one of the handsomest locations in Warrenton, on a lot of about four and a half acres, having an ample yard and garden well inclosed, with Stables, Kitchen, Smoke House, Dairy, Carriage House, Corn Crib, Servants' House, two good Cisterns in the yard, a well of excellent water, and is bounded by four streets. This square is sufficiently large, and so arranged as to be divided into two beautiful Building Lots, fronting towards the main part of the town. The Lot in front of the Dwelling is enclosed, contains over an acre, without any building, and is bounded by three streets.

The lot in rear of the Court-House fronts on the street about one hundred and ninety-two (192) feet, and contains about three-fourths of an acre. This lot has a Store, with several rooms, at the north corner, a residence in the centre, with several rooms, and an office with two rooms at the south end.

The tract of Land contains two hundred and eleven acres, in original growth partly, but mostly in second growth pine, and is situated on both sides of the main road to Clark's Bridge. Being so near Warrenton by a good road, this tract is valuable for its fire wood, having been reserved for this purpose, but would make a nice farm.

Possession of Dwelling and Lots given on first of January, 1867, and the tract of Land given up at sale.

TERMS—On the Dwelling, five hundred dollars cash, and on that and the rest of the property a credit of twelve months, from day of possession. Bonds, with satisfactory security, required, and title withheld until payment. Inquiries answered.

INFALLIBLE YEAST POWDERS.

Scientific men, who thoroughly understand the subject, concur with great unanimity in saying that nothing exerts such a deleterious influence against health as bad bread. The remedy is at hand in "IMPSON'S INFALLIBLE YEAST POWDERS, the value of which is thus certified:

RALEIGH, Aug. 24, 1866.

I have tested the Yeast Powders you manufacture and can recommend them as vastly superior to any other ever used by me. In addition to the lightness and sweetness of the bread, the powders are economical, as one-third the lard usually required will answer in the making of either loaf bread or biscuit. For pastries and cakes they are excellent.

VIRGINIA A. ORR.

The price of these powders per package is 25 cts. or 75 cts. per pound. To be had at Wm. Simpson's Confectionary Store, Fayetteville Street, Raleigh, N. C.

RALEIGH, Aug. 23, 1866.

This is to certify that I have used Mr. Simpson's Yeast Powders and find them to be superior to any I have ever used. After trying them once no housekeeper will be satisfied without them.

THE SENTINEL.

WM. E. PELL, SEATON GALES. } Editors.

Thursday Evening, Oct. 4, 1866.

FOR THE CONSTITUTION OF THE UNITED STATES, AS IT IS, AND THE UNION AS IT WAS.
NO FURTHER AMENDMENTS.

FOR GOVERNOR,
JONATHAN WORTH, OF RANDOLPH.

Election, Thursday, October 18th.

Mr. Holden and Thad. Stevens.

In the New York Herald of the —, we found a reported speech of Mr. Thaddeus Stevens, delivered in Lancaster, Pa., on the 27th of Sept. A portion of that speech professed to give an account or history of the bill called by Mr. Stevens the enabling act, which he urged upon Congress to adopt as a necessary accompaniment of the Howard amendment. We found in that history a portion of it devoted to the part which certain Southern loyalists bore in the framing of that bill. Among the names mentioned prominently by Mr. Stevens appeared the name of Mr. Holden, late Provisional Governor of North Carolina. The past and present relations of Mr. Holden to the people of North Carolina demanded at our hands, as public journalists, the publication of the exposure that Mr. Stevens had made. We therefore gave to our readers the following extract from Mr. Stevens' speech, on Tuesday last. Mr. Stevens said:

"There is one thing, however, introduced for fixing the condition of the Southern States—and since I am here I will say one word in explanation of that. I introduced a bill into Congress for the purpose of enabling the rebel states, under certain conditions, to form loyal governments. They have no governments now except some counterfeits put up by Andy Johnson. ("Three cheers for Thad. Stevens.") I proposed in that bill that every one of those conquered States should be put upon the same footing with a Territory; should elect delegates to a convention to form a republican constitution, (not such as they have got now, with slavery in them,) and in fixing the right of voters to elect those delegates I made it universal—I allowed the rebels, I allowed the black men, allowed every man to vote for delegates to the convention. When they came to form the constitution they should form it to suit themselves (not doing as Andy Johnson did, dictating what the terms of the constitution should be,) and when they formed it they should be allowed to refer it back to the people for ratification; and, if ratified, they might present it to Congress. Now, I did hope, in doing this, that our loyal friends, together with the loyal colored men, would carry the conventions and give negro suffrage. Every loyal Southern man came to me and asked me to put it in the bill. There was not a loyal man, from Governor Hamilton to Governor Holden, Chief Justice Powell and Governor Sherwood—there were twenty of these men driven from their homes who dare not go back, for fear of being murdered. They came to help me to fabricate the bill. It was not the rebels that did it; it was the loyal men that said give us that bill; and the vote of the loyal white men, added to that of the loyal black men, can carry every State but Virginia. I was in a caucus one night, when Governor Hamilton told us "to give them that law, and although we are now in the minority, and I dare not go home, for I should be murdered—give us that bill, and we can carry Texas on the side of the Union by twenty-five thousand majority." Governor Holden told me the same, and so did everybody except the Virginians."

We know nothing of Mr. Stevens, beyond what his speeches and acts, as a member of Congress, point him out to be, except through such verbal accounts of him as we have had from gentlemen who have seen him. This information has impressed us with the belief that he is a bold, frank, out-spoken, bad tempered, vindictive man. What confidence in his veracity the party of which he is the leader, or those who know him best, have in Mr. Stevens, we cannot certainly determine, yet the influence which he wields in that party authorizes the belief that he must be regarded by them as entitled to confidence. Hence, after reading his plain, almost unsophisticated account of Mr. Holden, Hamilton and others, as above, discovering no trace of a made up story for a purpose, we had no good reason to disbelieve it, and thereupon published it, in connection with such remarks as we believed were legitimate under the circumstances. Had the statements been made by an irresponsible or an anonymous writer, or by a partizan opponent of Mr. Holden, or a friend of his who found it necessary, to accomplish some political object in Pennsylvania, to couple Mr. Holden's name with others in those statements, we should have passed it by unnoticed, or simply called Mr. Holden's attention to it and asked for denial or assumpsit. But the party speaking, as well as the matter of the speech, were extraordinary and demanded exposure.

Mr. Holden, in his issue of to-day, denies the entire statement and gives a history of his visit to Washington. That portion of his narrative which refers directly to the charges made by Mr. Stevens, against Mr. Holden, is in the following words:

"We saw Mr. Stevens in the room of the Clerk of the House, in presence of Dr. Powell, Dr. Sloan, Gen. Banks, and others. The conversation was hurried, as the House was in session, and Mr. Stevens was called off once to vote. He said, among other things, that the whole work of reconstruction under the President was a usurpation, and null and void. Of course we could not agree to that, as we had been an actor in this work ourself. He said he would see to it that this work should not stand. In this it is well known he agrees with Judge Ruffin, of this State. He spoke of an enabling act, but we did not see it. Negro suffrage was not mentioned by any one during the conversation. We have not, to this day, seen Mr. Stevens' enabling act. It was introduced at the heel of the session, and we looked for it in vain in the Washington papers. Just as we were about to leave, Dr. Powell handed Mr. Stevens a new test-oath, to be adopted in the place of the present test-oath. We do not remember the words of this oath sufficiently well to repeat them, but this oath had our approval, as a milder and better one than that which now exists. Before we went to Washington, while we were there, and since our return, negro suffrage has not been in all our thoughts as a measure to be voluntarily adopted by our people. We saw and heard enough, however, to convince us if the Howard amendment should not be accepted by the Southern States, reorganization would follow, with negro suffrage, confiscation of property, and many other evils. This is the extent of our Radicalism, and of our "complicity" with Mr. Stevens.

We have no idea that Mr. Stevens intended to misstate our position. We do not believe him capable of falsehood or intentional misrepresentation. It is natural that he should include us with other Southern loyalists in his general statement as to what they desired. Gov. Hamilton is known to be in favor of negro suffrage."

Mr. Holden, it will be seen, denies in toto the correctness of Mr. Stevens' statements as to him, but endorses Mr. Stevens' character as a man of truth, and attributes the error to Mr. Stevens' confusion of ideas, by which he confounded him with others. The reader, by reviewing again Mr. Stevens' remarks, will see no evidences of confusion. The tenor of his remarks shows that it was not "some chance expression," but a premeditated speech, and in regard to Mr. Holden, it professed to be a mere narration of facts. It seems to us difficult to perceive how Mr. Stevens could connect Mr. Holden's name with the facts he was stating, and to repeat his name, specifically, as endorsing the statements of Hamilton of Texas, if Mr. Holden's statements be correct, without fixing deliberate and wilful falsehood upon Mr. Stevens.—Besides, Mr. Stevens does not say that Mr. Holden was at the caucus. He gives the statement of Hamilton at the caucus, quoting his very language. He does not say that at the same time Mr. Holden said the same thing. But plainly he means, that at another time and place, "Gov. Holden told me," not the caucus, "the same, and so did everybody except the Virginians."

Mr. Holden says that he saw Mr. Stevens twice. He gives quite a specific account of one interview he had with Mr. Stevens. That was "in the room of the Clerk of the House, in presence of Dr. Powell, Dr. Sloan, Gen. Banks and others." But he is silent as to, or perhaps has forgotten, the character of the second.

The people of North Carolina have the facts before them, to which they were entitled. It is not our province to settle the matter in dispute between Messrs. Stevens and Holden. Nor would it give us any pleasure to convict either of them of prevarication in this case. Mr. Holden's personal and vindictive assaults upon us, we care nothing for. We believe that Mr. Holden's political course has been mischievous and wicked, and seriously hurtful, unjust and unpatriotic towards the people of his native State. We believe it has been and is damaging to the Union of the States and promotive of discord and bitter hostility, on the part of the Northern people, towards the people of the South and of North Carolina, without any just reason. We would not harm a hair of his head. None would have been prouder than we, if he had borne himself, for the last three years, with a high-minded, honorable, unselfish and patriotic bearing in his public course, as he should have done; had devoted himself to the well-being of his country—his whole country and of his native State. But his talents as an editor, and his influence as a public man, have been prostituted to the promotion of partizan and selfish ends, to the great detriment of his own people and against the peace and quiet of the State and the Union. We owe it, therefore, to the harmony of the Union and of North Carolina to break down, legitimately, that influence for evil which he has wielded so successfully, and if possible to counteract the damage he has done and is doing.—If we cannot persuade or reform him, we must, at least, do what we can to preserve the country and the State from his baleful influence. That is our only aim!

More "Persecution."

The Standard speaks, in general terms, of certain localities in the West, in which it is unsafe for Union men to "announce their views from the stump." We deny this statement out and out. There is not a particle of truth in it. We have the authority of distinguished and reliable gentlemen from the West for the declaration, that such sweeping charges are utterly false, and that if any isolated cases of outrage have occurred they are not aware of them. We are as anxious as any one can be to expose and prevent the persecution of men for their principles, and we challenge the Standard to produce the names of localities and the names of the guilty parties. If it furnishes them, accompanied by proof of its allegations, we will heartily join it in its denunciation of the act and the men. If it does not, it must stand convicted of having published a wicked untruth to damage and injure the State at the North. And there is the point. The Standard knows well that its assertions will not be believed at home, but its sole object and purpose is to pander to the vindictive appetite of Northern Radicalism, and to strengthen their hands in their crusade against our people. And all for what? Because, forsooth, it, to use its own language, is "under the ban."

Again we dare the proof. There is no truth in these statements of the Standard. Only yesterday we published a communication from Macon County, giving the names of several candidates for the Legislature, who had "announced their views" in favor of the Radical programme, and the last Asheville News contains a card from an individual who sets himself up in opposition to Mr. Gash, for the Senate in the Henderson District, who openly advocates the Radical policy.

Out with the names. And above all let us have that of one of our "worthiest public men, who was driven from the stump by armed ex-rebels." The name! the facts! or we shall continue, as we do now, to brand the statement as an unmitigated invention.

Horace Greeley.

Perhaps no man connected with the Radical party at the North has done more mischief, or has more seriously injured the South, than Horace Greeley. Yet he has been an open enemy, frank in his positions, and withal seemingly prompted by ideas of humanity and mercy. His opposition to the treatment of Mr. Davis, to the shedding of blood, and confiscation for political offences, entitles him to consideration in the South far beyond what is due to such men as Stevens, Butler, &c.

He has evidently, however, been misled in many things, but in nothing so much as in regard to the real temper of the Southern people since the war. Deception and falsehood have been practiced upon him to an inconceivable extent; so much so that he has not even a reasonable conception of the real feelings of the Southern people. The riotous and bloody scenes at Memphis and New Orleans have done a world of injury to the South. Perhaps neither of them can be justified; at least, we have seen nothing which has fully explained them to our satisfaction,—yet it is palpable that the falsehoods perpetrated in regard to them have done the South far more injustice and harm than the whole truth could have done.

Mr. Greeley wants to see the time come when free speech will be allowed in the South. Hear him:

"I want to see the time when I can go down to Charleston or New Orleans, and talk, if I feel in the spirit of talking, to those who want to hear me, without anybody making a riot. If a rebel comes here and wants to talk, I will help him to get a hearing, for it is his right. Should Gen. Lee or Alexander Stephens come here and want to speak, we would say: 'We don't care what you did; you have the right to come here and speak.' To-day, if General Cochrane or your humble servant were to go down South, and undertake to speak in any of the rebel cities, they would not stop to hear what we had to say, but would simply kill us. That spirit has got to be rooted out. It is not sectional,—it is infernal."—New York Tribune.

We assure Mr. Greeley that that liberty is accorded fully and freely to every man, black and white, in North Carolina. No man is tabooed or mistreated who honestly expresses, in a becoming manner, his sentiments, publicly or privately. If a citizen of the State, or if Mr. Greeley, or Mr. Thad. Stevens, or Mr. Beecher, or any other man from abroad, native or foreigner, comes among us, he is allowed the largest liberty to express his sentiments. And, however much our people may differ with him in opinion, if he do not slander and malign us, or if his manifest aim is simply to promulgate his sentiments and not to promote strife between classes of people and excite ill feeling and riot, no one dreams of preventing or maltreating him in any way. If Mr. Horace Greeley were to come into North Carolina to make speeches, he could do so with greater security, if possible, than in New York. The colored people invited him last year, and he declined, but if he still doubts, we hereby assure him that Gov. Worth will indemnify his perfect security while within the State. We give this assurance for the reason that we have entire confidence in the quiet and generous disposition of our people, and because we feel satisfied he would come for the purpose of simply presenting his own sentiments and not for the purpose of exciting ill feeling or riot.

If Mr. Greeley were published to make a speech here to-morrow, or any other day, we venture the assertion that he would be listened to with perfect decorum and by the largest crowd he has addressed for months. Our people, in listening to him, would put to shame the rowdy class who insulted and shamelessly abused President Johnson on his tour to and from Chicago.

A Word to the People.

There is great danger that there may be candidates for the Legislature in some of the Counties, who profess to be personally opposed to the (Howard) Constitutional amendment, but who might be induced, "under certain circumstances," to vote for it in the Legislature.—This is a vital question. The Legislature will be called upon to vote for or against it at the next session. Should the Northern elections be favorable to it, some men, who now seem to be sound on the subject, but who are known to be timid, tender-footed men, could be persuaded to vote for it. Such men will not do to be trusted at a time like this. No man should be voted for who would vote for it under any circumstances, unless upon the positive instructions of his constituents fairly obtained, and, even then, not unless his own judgment fully endorses those instructions coming from the greater portion of an intelligent constituency. It is not an ordinary matter. It proposes a vital and dangerous change of the Constitution, which should be well pondered before voting for it, and then not because a majority of the Northern people vote for it, but because the people of the South believe it to be right, or just, or best for the South and for the Union.

IT IS REALLY AMUSING. Whenever "that same Bill Holden," as Gen. Dockery affectionately designated our San Salvadorean in 1864, gets into a tight place, he invariably falls back upon "Brother Pell" and the "Junior and the flag." When he is about being cornered, "Bill" makes a desperate lunge at "Brother Pell and Seaton." Having got hold of them, he considers himself safe and defies the world.

Seriously, if that wit is all San Salvador Billy's, we tremble for the consequences. He will positively injure himself by such agonizing efforts, to the great concern and tribulation of Hamilton, Brownlow, Tourgee & Co.

WE ARE TOLD, in Hudibras, of a fellow who could ——"Fire a mine in China here,

With sympathetic gun-powder."

And so it is thought that our Ex-P. G. got up that little earthquake in San Salvador, of which the telegraph gave us an account the other day, as a relief to his "pheelinks," when General Dockery refused to be martyrized.—Another one, on a larger scale, may be expected in a few days, in consequence of Thaddeus Stevens' late speech at Lancaster, Pennsylvania.

Selling Out!

The readers of the Sentinel cannot fail to have perceived that its advertising columns, of late, have been crowded with announcements of real estate for sale. We observe the same feature in many of our State cotemporaries. If all this landed property was being sub-divided and the owners were only offering portions for sale, we should hail it as an auspicious indication. The ambition to own more land than one can reasonably cultivate has hitherto been the great agricultural sin of the Southern community, and the altered relations of labor now demand, more imperatively than ever before, that this blunder should cease. In the partition of large and cumbrous estates into small farms and homesteads, in the immigration of honest and skilful industry, and in the augmentation of the number of small farmers, lies the surest road to recuperation and prosperity.

Unfortunately, however, the indications are that a great many of our most substantial farmers are inclined and anxious to dispose of all they have, with the view, in all probability, of leaving the State. This is a most deplorable augury. But it is not to be wondered at. It finds its explanation in the unreliable condition of labor, the unsettled state of the country, and the fears of confiscation, disfranchisement and negro equality, as the results of Radical malignity. If the mere apprehension of such things is sufficient to drive so many of our best citizens from the land of their pride and their affections, who can measure the depopulation, the sufferings, the humiliation, that must ensue, when they shall have been accomplished? Bewail the fact as we may, we have it not in our hearts to upbraid those who, under all these circumstances, contemplate expatriation. When they see degradation and ruin not only threatened by the Radicals of the North, but actually invited by malicious and revengeful men in their own midst, who shall blame them that they are looking about for some covert, in other lands, from the storm which they fear is impending?

Under a wise and beneficent national policy, on the part of Congress, the South, notwithstanding the waste and devastation of war, would rapidly recover, and, from the immense natural resources which she enjoys, contribute her full share towards the revenue of the government, and thus not only ensure the payment of the national debt, but at the same time reduce the rate of taxation to the extent of what she might contribute to the treasury.

But the Jacobin spirit proposes no such relief. On the contrary, it contemplates the indefinite continuance of our doubtful political status, negro equality, punishments and seizures. The consequence will be that this heaven-favored region, (unless Heaven interposes to prevent it by imbuing men's minds with right reason, forgiveness and justice,) possessing wealth-producing capacities such as no other portion of the earth enjoys, will become an unproductive desert, and the Northern masses will be compelled to submit, so long as time shall last, to the enormous taxation which now blights their industry and crushes them to the earth, or rise up in their strength and repudiate the debt. Persistence in the Jacobin policy will render this result inevitable.

Washington College, Lexington.

This College, originally called "Liberty Hall Academy," was chartered in 1782. In 1798 the name was changed to "Washington Academy," in honor of Washington, who gave to the institution one hundred shares in the James River Navigation Company, and the fund from this gift still yields the college the interest on $50,000. Subsequently the Cincinnati Society bestowed its funds upon the same institution, which furnished an additional $23,000. In 1826, John Robinson, a Virginia Revolutionary soldier, bequeathed his estate to the college, adding $40,000 more to the endowment.

In 1864, while General Hunter occupied the town of Lexington, the college was sacked, the apparatus destroyed, and the library largely and infamously plundered.

It is known that since General Lee, last summer, was called to the presidency of this college, the course of studies has been greatly expanded, and that philanthropic capitalists in the North have contributed with large liberality to the endowment of professorships. Mr. C. H. McCormick, a Virginian in New York, gave $15,000, upon which the McCormick professorship of "Experimental Philosophy and Practical Mechanics" has been established. Mr. Warren Newcomb, also of New York, has given $10,000. About a thousand volumes of books, the library of the late Thomas B. Wilson, of Philadelphia, have also been donated, by his brother, Mr. R. Wilson, of Philadelphia. In addition to these donations the friends of this college abroad, and especially in England, have manifested a deep interest in its success, and the agent, Rev. Mr. Stuart, reports in a highly encouraging manner in relation to his appeals to the generous friends of education in that country.

Who would prefer any Northern school to such as the one over which the genius of R. E. LEE presides? Who would send their daughters to Northern schools, when the accomplished widow and daughters of the lamented General POLK are seeing Southern patronage for a support? Surely the South will take this thing to heart, and do herself justice.—Mem. Avalanche.

A CONSCIENCE TUNER!—We see it stated in the Raleigh, N. C., Enterprise, that "a conscience tuner" has turned up in that town. Hope he will try his hand on the Editor of the Standard, and then come on here—we wish to introduce him to a few lessees in this town.—Dan. Times.

Negro suffrage, if it ever does come, will not give the Radicals the power they hope for. We do not believe that Holden, for instance, could obtain the vote of the colored people of North Carolina.—Danville Times.

"Preacher Edmund," a colored man of this place, aged 115, has married an interesting colored damsel of eighty summers.—Danville Times.

Alfred Dockery won't run for the Governorship. Yet he favors the Howard Amendment. N'importe. San Salvador is in tears.—Petersburg Index.

The Raleigh Sentinel calls Holden the Ex. P. G. We suppose it means an Exhausted Political Gamester.—Williamston Expositor.

THE SENTINEL.

Thursday Evening, Oct. 4, 1866.

CITY AND STATE ITEMS.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.—Miss S. G. Aycocke proposes to give lessons in the Tharian art of drawing and painting,—a beautiful accomplishment. She may be found at the Exchange Hotel and will take pleasure in exhibiting specimens. She wishes to commence with classes on the 10th.

B. P. Williamson & Co. announce a great Trade Sale at auction on Wednesday next, the 10th. inst. See advertisement for particulars.

See musical announcement by Oliver Ditson & Co. Boston.

See Court advertisement from Washington County.

BIVALVULAR.—Oysters in profusion, and in the finest style, were served up at the "Exchange Hotel" last evening. We were there, and can testify that the numerous guests enjoyed themselves Maj. Blair leaves nothing undone to render his patrons satisfied and pleased.

SUPERIOR COURT.—This tribunal was engaged until quite a late hour, last night, without concluding, in the trial of Putney and Johnson for highway robbery. The Attorney General appears for the State: Messrs. E. G. Haywood and R. C. Badger for Johnson, and Messrs. Busbee and Badham for Putney. The trial was resumed this morning, but Putney was discharged, the evidence not implicating him in the crime.

We design no idle compliment when we say that no Judge has presided on this circuit, for years, who has more justly earned for himself the good opinion of the bar and the public than Judge Merrimon.

THE COLORED EDUCATIONAL CONVENTION.—Quite a number of delegates from different portions of the State are in attendance here upon the Educational Convention of the colored people. We learn that the business has so far been conducted with order and propriety. James H. Harris, of this city, presides, and we are glad to be able to say that we believe it is his purpose, as well as that of those who act with him, to pursue such a course as will meet the approbation of the citizens of the State.

On yesterday, several gentlemen were invited to attend the sittings of the Convention. Gov. Worth attended in the afternoon, was warmly and politely received, and called upon, unexpectedly, for an address. By the kindness of the Governor, we subjoin the brief address delivered on the occasion. He said in substance:

I have come here, upon your invitation, to give you, by my presence, what countenance and encouragement I could, having understood that all your proceedings were conducted in a becoming and orderly manner. I was not notified that any remarks were expected from me, till your President just informed me. The few words I shall say are unpremeditated.

In the first place, let me assure you, that I am disposed to do every thing I can, as a citizen and as Governor, to protect you in all your rights, and to encourage you to be industrious, to educate your children and to make yourselves respectable and happy; and while you may expect my protection, while you do right, I shall be equally ready to have those punished who do wrong.

You are very poor. Your first care should be, by industry and economy, to provide good supplies of meat and bread, and devote all you can spare to educate your children; and remember that it is the common interest of both races that no enmity be allowed to grow up between them. As far as I know, the general feeling of your late masters is kind towards you. The whites feel that they owe you a debt of gratitude for your quiet and orderly conduct during the war, and you should endeavor so to act as to keep up this kindly feeling between the two races.

Let me advise you not to meddle in governmental affairs. You know how few of your race are now capable of understanding matters of this sort, and you see the strifes and troubles in which party politics have involved the whites. Avoid politics. Practice industry, virtue, and cultivate the kind feeling which now exists between the races, and you will thus acquire competence and elevate your condition.

This short address was received with applause and with evident tokens of pleasure and gratification. We shall give our readers, hereafter, an epitome, at least, of the more important action of the body.

ARRIVALS AT THE YARBROUGH HOUSE.—Oct. 2nd and 3rd, 1866.—E. H. Marsh, Salisbury; Addison Coffin, Greensboro'; Jno. Hendricks, Mrs. Margaret Hendricks, Cedar Falls; W. J. Hawkins, Mrs. Somerville and Daughter, Warren; Lieut. W. A. Thompson, H. W. Ark, Alfred A. Thompson, Pittsboro'; Jos. H. Hyman, Tarboro'; P. A. Wiley, Captain Justin Hodge, Miss Fannie Lutterloh, G. H. Haigh, Fayetteville; W. S. Hendricks, Blountsville, Ind.; J. S. Lapping, R. & G. R. R.; J. A. Marsh, Ashboro', N. C.; J. A. Turrentine, Hillsboro'; Grey Utley, Petersburg; Wash'n Reid, Virginia; W. J. Barrow, Johnston Co.; J. C. Justice, Newbern.

ARRIVALS AT THE EXCHANGE HOTEL.—Oct. 2nd and 3d, 1866.—J S Clayton, Tenn.; J H Welch, N. Y.; C G Hyatt, Greensboro'; Miss Henrietta Biggs, Miss L H Owen, Hillsboro'; R E Morecock, R. & G. R. R.; L P Chism, S C; H F Granger, Greene county; J E Hentz, Charleston, S C; Mrs. Dickson, Wilmington; N Thomas, Caswell; Wm A Darden, Greene Co.; C P Cardozo, Norfolk; George W Swepson, G Rosenthal, Haw River; Isaac Porter, Capt. C L Brown, U S A; E D Sandford, Petersburg, Va.; G H King, C Haney, Va.; George A Douglass, C G Street, N Y; L A Paschall, Oxford, N C; A S Akins, Miss.; M D Williams, E J Bell, J B Bell, Chatham.

REVIVALS.—Our religious exchanges give most encouraging accounts of the prevalence of a deep religious interest in different parts of the State. We have seldom seen this more general.

COL. W. L. STEELE, of Richmond County, will deliver an address before the Duplin Vinegrowing and Agricultural Society, at Kenansville, on Friday, the 26th. of November.

DR. GEO. C. SUGG, of Edgecombe county, has sold his Pitt county farm—2,323 acres of land, nine mules, one horse, thirty head of cattle, seventy-five head of sheep, four hundred head of hogs, crop of one hundred and forty acres in cotton, one hundred and fifty in corn, implements, &c.—for $100,000; one-fourth cash, balance in one, two and three years, seven per cent. —to a Northern firm.

A PUBLIC BENEFACTION.—Messrs. H. & E. J. Lilly, A. A. McKethan, and their co-operators, in the building of the Bridge across the Cape Fear, which is just about completed, have made themselves public benefactors of this town and all surrounding country, and we hope that they may have this reward in a large dividend, to the "latest posterity." This bridge is built on the site of the old one which was burnt by order of Gen. Hardee on his march through here in March 1865, and which had stood for a generation and a half.—Fay. News.

THE CHOLERA.—Three cases of fatal sickness have occurred during the last few days, which the Medical Faculty pronounce to be Cholera. The subjects were negroes of the same family, living on the premises of Mr. H. A. Bagg, corner of Fourth and Chestnut Streets. We have been reliably informed that no other cases have occurred and none now exist. The last death happened yesterday morning.

The city authorities have taken every precaution to prevent the spread of the disease, and we think there is no cause for alarm. Our citizens, however, should be prudent. We publish on our first page a few simple, and, we believe, salutary directions from a gentleman of great experience in the disease.

Our country friends need feel no uneasiness in visiting the city as usual. We will advise them should the disease be pronounced epidemic.—Wil. Journal.

Deep River Coal.

"We regret to hear that the proprietors of the Egypt Coal Mine have discontinued operations. The reason, we are informed, is that the freights on the Western R. R., are so high that mining will not bear the expense of getting the coal to market. If this be so, the policy pursued by the Directors is a most remarkable one. It is said that freight, by way of Wilmington, Fayetteville and the Western R. R. on a lot of goods to Egypt, was $24 50, while on the same lot, by way of Norfolk, Weldon and Raleigh, the freight is $13. We believe the policy of low freights, creating business, is the best for our railroads. In this connection we learn that steam saw mills, on the line of the Wilmington and Weldon and other Railroads, have been forced to be discontinued on account of high freights."

We clip the above from the Raleigh Sentinel of the 28th ult. We hope the Sentinel will do the Western Railroad the justice to publish this, our contradiction of the statement.

Our road has made the freight on coal perfectly satisfactory to the Mining Company, and just the same that they charge on the Pennsylvania roads for the same distance. The reason for the discontinuance of the raising of coal is, (as can be shown by letters from the President of that Co.,) that ocean freights are too high and the price of coal too low to allow them to put it into market. We know nothing of the particular lot of goods spoken of by the Sentinel, but can say that the freights of the river and on our railroad will compare favorably with prices charged for the same distance, anywhere in the State.

And we go further, and challenge a comparison of the prices of transportation made by the Western Railroad, and all other or any other roads in the State, and think we can show that they are much less than the average of the roads, throughout the State.—Fay. News.

(We are pleased to make the above correction. We presume that our informant was misled in the matter.—EDS. SENTINEL.)

GREELEY ON THE CASE OF MR. DAVIS.—Greeley speaks his mind freely on this subject. He says with force and truth:

"There is a conglomeration of shuffle, sham, shirk, and sneak in the treatment of this prisoner, which is calculated to nauseate the civilized world, and for which somebody will yet be held to a stern responsibility. Every manly instinct demands that Davis should be promptly tried; if he is not to be tried, or is only to be subjected to a costly and mischievous sham trial, with no expectation or desire of convicting him, he should be liberated at once. And if he is to be tried only for treason, then the charge of assassination should be retracted as publicly as it was made. And it is the duty of the Executive, through his Attorney General, to act promptly and frankly in the premises, so as to relieve the government from the imputation of calumniating an enemy and holding, for eighteen months, a prisoner whom it dare not put on trial. The American people are being disgraced by the acts of their rulers, and they must insist upon a speedy change."

Frost.

We regret to see from a correspondent of the Mobile Register & Advertiser, that a very heavy frost visited Saltillo, on the line of the Mobile and Ohio railroad, on last Saturday morning.—The chief hope of planters in that region was that the frost would come late. Every possible disaster seems to fall this season upon the fated cotton.

Swedish Immigrants.

We learn from the Petersburg Index that Maj. William Allen has recently brought on from New York, a number of intelligent Swedes to labor on his farm on James river, Claremont. We hope the experiment many prove satifactory to the employer and the employees, and that we may soon have a body of immigrants among us who will make our desolate places to blossom as the rose.

The Springfield (Mass.) Union says that "sensualism, in all its more beastly and disgusting forms of licentiousness and profligacy, is on a rapid increase in all our New England cities and towns, and nobody can blink it out of sight without doing violence to his knowledge and sincerity."

A Boston tourist has found in Rome a genial gentleman of sixty, named Signore Columbo, the only living descendant of Christopher Columbus. He possesses many interesting relics formerly belonging to Columbus, among which are two fine oil paintings of him. He has written a life of Columbus.

A model house is now being built as an experiment in one of the suburbs of Paris. It consists of ten stories, besides the cellars underground. It has no staircase, but every minute a hydraulic lift. As the upper stories will be more airy and quiet than the others they will probably let at a higher rate than the lower floors.

Feanando Wood for Congress.

From Washington.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.

The President, to-day, made the following appointments: Albert N. Lawrence, of R. I., Minister resident at Costa Rica; M. E. Hollister, of Illinois, Consul at Buenos Ayres; Charles Dougherty, of Pennsylvania, Consul at Londonderry.

The Attorney General, in response to an enquiry of the President on the subject, has given an opinion to the effect that the President cannot separate the districts for collection of tax on cotton from districts for the assessment and collection of tax on other products.

The Secretary of the Treasury has also denied the application to have the boundaries of collection districts changed, on the ground that it would take longer for new appointees to quality, select and instruct their assistants than it would for the present officers to appoint a sufficient number of assistants and deputies.

A New and Grand Epoch in Medicine!

DR. MAGGIEL is the founder of a new Medical System! The quantitarians, whose vast internal doses enfeeble the stomach and paralyze the bowels, must give precedence to the man who restores health and appetite, with from one to two of his extraordinary Pills, and cures the most virulent sores with a box or so of his wonderful and all healing Salve. These two great specifics of the Doctor are fast superseding all the stereotyped nostrums of the day. Extraordinary cures by Maggiel's Pills and Salve have opened the eyes of the public to the inefficiency of the (so-called) remedies of others, and upon which people have so long blindly depended. Maggil's Pills are not of the class that are swallowed by the dozen, and of which every box full taken creates an absolute necessity for another. One or two of Maggiel's Pills suffices to place the bowels in perfect order, tone the stomach, create an appetite, and render the spirits light and buoyant! There is no griping, and no reaction in the form of constipation. If the liver is affected, its functions are restored; and if the nervous system is feeble, it is invigorated. This last quality makes the medicines very desirable for the wants of delicate females. Ulcerous and eruptive diseases are literally extinguished by the disinfectant power of Maggiel's Salve. In fact, it is announced that Maggiel's Billious, Dyspeptic and Diarrhœa Pills cure where all others fail. While for Burns, Scalds, Chilblains, Cuts and all abrasions of the skin, Maggiel's Salve is infallible. Sold by J. MAGGIEL, 11 Pine St., New York, and all Druggists, at 25 cts. per box.

SOMETHING NEW

UNDER THE SUN.

A New Era In Medicine

☞ Let the Suffering and Diseased read the following.

☞ Let all who have been given up by Doctors, and spoken of as incurable, read the following.

☞ Let all who can believe facts and can have faith in evidence, read the following:

Know all men by these presents, That on this, the Twentieth day of June, in the year of our Lord, One Thousand Eight Hundred and Sixty-Six, personally came Joseph Haydock to me, known as such, and being duly sworn, deposed as follows: That he is the sole general agent for the United States, and dependencies thereof, for preparations or medicines known as MAGGIEL'S PILLS and SALVE, and that the following certificates are verbatim copies to the best of his knowledge and belief.

JAMES SMEITER,
L. S. Notary Public,
Wall Street, New York.

June 1, 1866.

DR. MAGGIEL:—I take my pen to write you of my great relief and that the awful pain in my side has left me at last—thanks to your medicine. Oh, doctor, how thankful I am that I can get some sleep. I can never write it enough. I thank you again and again, and am sure that you are really the friend of all sufferers. I could not help writing to you, and hope you will not take it amiss.

JAMES MYERS,
116 Avenue D.

This is to certify that I was discharged from the army with Chronic Diarrhœa, and have been cured by Dr. Maggiel's Pills.

WILSON HARVEY,
New York, April 7, 1865. 27 Pitt Street.

The following is an interesting case of a man employed in an Iron Foundry, who, in pouring melted iron into a flask that was damp and wet, caused an explosion. The melted iron was thrown around and on him in a perfect shower, and he was burnt dreadfully. The following certificate was given to me by him about eight weeks after the accident.

New York, Jan. 11, 1866.

My name is Jacob Hardy; I am an Iron Founder; I was badly burnt by hot iron in November last; my burns healed, but I had a running sore on my leg that would not heal; I tried Maggiel's Salve, and it cured me in a few weeks. This is all true, and any body can now see me at Jackson's Iron Works, 2nd Avenue.

J. HARDY,
119 Georick Street.

Extract from Various Letters:

"I had no appetite; Maggiel's Pills gave me a hearty one."

"Your Pills are marvelous."

"I send for another box, and keep them in the house."

"Dr. Maggiel has cured my headache that was chronic."

"I gave half of one of your pills to my babe for cholera morbus. The dear little thing got well in a day."

"My nausea of a morning is now cured."

"Your box of Maggiel's Salve cured me of noises in the head. I rubbed some of your Salve behind my ears and the noise left."

"Send me two boxes; I want one for a poor family."

"I enclose a dollar; your price is twenty-five cents, but the medicine to me is worth a dollar."

"Send me five boxes of your pills."

"Let me have three boxes of your Salve by return mail."

I have over 200 such Testimonals

As this, but want of space compels me to conclude

THE NATIONAL UNION BUSINESS COLLEGE

WASHINGTON, D. C.,

Offers superior advantages for a thorough Business Education.

The course of instruction embraces Commission, Importing, Jobbing, Retailing, Bank and other Bookkeeping, Commercial Law, Arithmetic, Correspondence, Spencerian Penmanship and Business Practice.

PENMANSHIP is taught by Henry C. Spencer, the leading author of this system, and celebrated as the Editor of the "Spencerian Key to Practical Penmanship," adopted by nearly all first class Colleges as the standard of criticism. Unsurpassed facilities are here presented for acquiring this valuable art.

The system of "BUSINESS PRACTICE," originated and successfully taught by the Proprietor, receives his special attention. This is the most valuable part of the course. Here the student applies his theoretical knowledge. He buys and sells representative notes, makes out notes, drafts, invoices, &c., deposits College money in the College Bank, and checks it out as his business requires. Becoming, in turn, Retailer, Wholesale, Forwarder, Banker, he soon acquires a knowledge of business forms, learns to compose and condense the history of every transaction and thinks for himself. He is thus prepared for actual business.

Full scholarship, good for review at any time, with Life Membership in this Union of Colleges extending to the principal cities, only $45. Books and stationery extra.

For circulars giving full information, for specimens of Penmanship, of the College currency and merchandise.

Ladies will find this the best opportunity to procure choice new styles of FALL DRESS GOODS, which I am now opening in great variety, such as splendid Eugenia and Empress Cloths, Crepes, Merinos, Goldanelia, richly embroidered—an entirely new things, rich, brilliant silk stripes on chene grounds: "Transconia A'Soie, effective Careaux, with rich Broches,' "Lornetto, effective Satin Carreatux," on lasting finish grounds, very costly; "Rich Valentia, in plain chene," all new and desirable shades, prime qualities and beautiful designs, with rich Broches.

A magnificent assortment of

the largest in Va., or North Carolina, embracing 20,000 yards, all bought at auction, and will be sold at prices far below any similar quality ever offered in this market. I have also just received over 10,000 yards of PANTALOON GOODS, in every variety of finish and quality, varying in price from 30c, to $3. This stock is the largest and most complete of the kind that I have ever offered, and will be constantly replenished during the season as the demand requires.

At a future day I will enumerate the different lines of Goods I usually keep. Suffice it to say, at present, that everything kept in any first-class Dry-Goods House can be found here, in every variety, at the lowest prices.

I would say to those in want of

that the greatest care has been taken in the selection of the best colors and finest fabrics, and they have but to be seen to be appreciated, so that those in want had better

1866. FALL TRADE 1866.

M'ILWAINE & CO.,

WHOLESALE DEALERS IN STAPLE & FANCY DRY GOODS.

No. 79 Sycamore Street,

Petersburg, Virginia,

TAKE PLEASURE IN INFORMING THEIR friends and the trade generally that the steady increase of their business has rendered it necessary for them to add two rooms to their Dry Goods Department, together with a large and convenient entrance from Tabb street, which arrangement gives them a most spacious Sales-room, well lighted, and enables them by this increased accommodation to add largely to their Fall Supply.

They beg leave to invite particular attention to their extensive assortment of

made to order under the supervision of Mr. A. S. SHAFER, whose long experience in this department of business, in this city, has made him familiar with the wants of Merchants in Virginia and North Carolina. Anticipating a heavy Trade this Fall, their stock will be found unusually large, embracing a general assortment of

American and Foreign

STAPLE AND FANCY DRY GOODS,

together with a full line of

which having been purchased for cash, they have no hesitation in saying to the Trade, that they are prepared to offer such inducements as will insure satisfaction.

Capt. EDWARD GRAHAM and Mr. JOHN McKEEVE have charge of this Department, and will be pleased to exhibit our stock to buyers visiting this market.
